ABSTRACT

This report is a compilation of data on the overall enrollment by school and department enrollments by school from fall 1994 to fall 1998 for City College of San Francisco. Overall enrollments in applied science technology, ESL and international education, health and physical education, liberal arts, library and learning resources, and science and mathematics increased over the 5-year period, while enrollments in behavioral and social sciences and business decreased. The number of students enrolling for both credit and noncredit courses in the School of Library and Learning Resources rose from 9,849 in 1994 to 11,733 in 1998, an increase of 159.6%. Within the school, enrollment for credit courses in the Department of Learning Assistance increased from 565 to 2,559, a 352.9% increase from fall 94 to fall 98. On the contrary, overall enrollment in the School of Business decreased by 10.3% over the same period. While enrollment rate for credit business classes remained steady over the period, enrollment in noncredit business classes dropped by 16.1% from fall 94-98. (JA)
